Federal and State laws, and University policies, protect students, faculty and staff from discrimination based on the following legally protected characteristics: Race, Color, Creed, Religion, National Origin, Sex (including pregnancy and parenting status), Age, Veteran Status, Disability, Marital Status, Sexual Orientation, Gender Identity and Expression, and Genetic Information (see wwu.edu/eoo and Western's Policies on Ensuring Equal Opportunity & Prohibiting Discrimination & Retaliation and Preventing & Responding to Sex Discrimination, Including Sexual Misconduct).

In compliance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Western does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its educational programs and activities or in employment. Western strives to maintain an environment free from sexual harassment, gender-based harassment and sexual violence (including sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence and stalking).

Western's Discrimination Complaint Procedure provides an administrative process (not legal or criminal) for prompt and equitable investigation and resolution of complaints alleging violations of civil rights laws. This includes concerns of unfair treatment based on any protected characteristic, bullying, hazing, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking.
