TABLE of CONTENTS

A targeted, well-written, attractive resume will not get you a job, but it will grab an employer's attention. The goal is to pique interest that leads to interviews. On the other hand, a generic, unfocused resume with errors will definitely turn off employers! This handbook is organized to make the writing process a productive, successful one.

Good luck!

The WWU Career Services Center (CSC) is here to help you craft a professional resume. We encourage you to create an account on Optimal Resume and review samples and styles to give you some ideas to begin developing your resume. Optimal Resume is a free, online resume building resource that is available on the Career Services Center website. Use your Western email address to establish an account and see "Getting Started on Optimal Resume" for more information. A smaller selection of printable samples are available here.

You may want to attend a resume clinic before career fairs or other events and obtain feedback about your resume. Finally, we invite you to make an appointment with a Peer Advisor or a Counselor in the Career Services Center for more personalized information.

SAME PERSON...TWO DIFFERENT RESUME FORMATS!

The following samples illustrate two different ways to design a resume for one individual. The chronological (or combination) style is used for most situations, while the skill-based (or functional) style is used for those with very little experience and some career-changers. For full-page samples see Optimal Resume or Printable Samples.

RESUME CHECKLIST

General Reminders: There's no single right way to write a resume.

- In fact, you may need several different versions depending on the type of jobs you apply for.
- Build your resume using the Optimal Resume tool on the CSC website to create several versions with a variety of fonts and styles.
- A great resume won't get you the job. A bad one, however, will definitely hurt your chances!
- Be honest but not modest.
- Do not fold or staple your resume and always include a cover letter when sending your resume.

Five Second Review: Give it the once-over...is your resume inviting or scary?

- Is your resume neat, clean and pleasing to the eye? Is it easy to skim information quickly?
- Is the text and white space balanced on the page?
- Are the margins even and not too narrow or too wide?
- Is it printed on resume paper (white or neutral light shade)?

Fifteen Minute Review: A top-notch resume-writer will answer 'yes' to most of the following questions.

OVERALL APPEARANCE

- Do you have at least 1-inch margins on top, bottom and sides?
- Does your resume have enough white space between sections/lines?
- Did you use 11 or 12 point typeface? (Arial is easier to read if the font is smaller than 12 point)
- Did you use just one font?
- Are you using consistent headings, boldface, punctuation and spacing throughout the document?
- Is your choice of resume format easy to read and consistent?
- Do you have zero tolerance for errors and misspellings?
- Did you eliminate artwork, photographs, cutesy bullets, fancy type and colored ink (simple designs might be appropriate for art/design majors)?

ORGANIZATION

- Does the layout and organization showcase your skills and experience to their best advantage?
- Are your section headings clear and related to the target/objective of your resume?
- Did you use commonly used headings, e.g., Objective, Education, Related Experience (or similar title), Summary of Qualifications, Relevant Skills?
- Other possible headings might include: Projects, Technical Skills, Honors, Awards, Affiliations, Volunteer Experience or other Work Experience, Related Coursework.
- If you used a chronological resume format, did you list jobs, internship and other experience in reverse chronological order (starting with the most recent and continuing back in the past)?
- Did you omit references (except in rare cases, put them on a separate sheet if requested)?

CONTENT

- Is it easy for the employer to see how you meet the specific job requirements/qualifications?
- Are the descriptions of your experience, skills and knowledge related to the job?
- Did you include unpaid, volunteer, internship and classroom experience as well as paid experience?
- Did you begin descriptions with an action verb and keep your descriptions brief?
- Whenever possible, did you use key industry words and/or words related to the job description?
- Did you give examples of your demonstrated proficiency with skills/knowledge related to the job?
- Did you include details that make you stand out from other applicants?
- Were you honest (but not modest!) and truthful when describing your background?
- Did you use the present tense and past tense correctly?
- Did you avoid using personal pronouns?
- Did you avoid abbreviations (exception for state names) and jargon that is not commonly understood?

SKILL EMPLOYERS ARE SEEKING

A resume should honestly highlight your skills, abilities and knowledge relevant for a desired job. Research the job market, conduct informational interviews and read sample job announcements to compile a list of specific skills sought by employers in your field.

TRANSLATING DUTIES TO SKILLS WORKSHEET

Use the “What + formula”

For each job think: What did you do in this position?

Then elaborate: Why was the task important?

What was your impact within the company?

How did you perform your duties?

What skills did you use or develop?

Develop bullet points that begin with a strong verb and emphasize skills or qualities required in the next job you seek!

Examples:

- “Made speeches and gave presentations” becomes:
What + Skills Developed: Researched and delivered public presentations, becoming confident and poised in public
- “Collected water samples” becomes:
What + How and Impact: Collected water samples independently, ensuring accurate supply for scientists
- “Answered phones for busy office” becomes:
Importance+ What: Created calm and pleasant atmosphere, answering phones for busy office
