Economics 406: Economics of Education
Homework 1

Due April 12, 2018.

1. Using the model that determines the amount of schooling an individual might choose, make at least one alteration and find a new optimal level of schooling. How did your alteration change this level? Is there a predictive hypothesis your model makes? Can you think of data that might be used to test this prediction?